VOLUNTEERS.

Judge Cochran's Eloquent Address at the Reunion of the Army of the Cumberland.

The fourth toast of the evening was "Our Volunteer Soldiers," to which Judge Cochran responded as follows: The American conflict was the crowning act in the experiment of self-government. It closed the debate. At seif-call the people in the people's war with the libation of their best blood scaled the Immutable decree that Government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth-and the voice of the people is the

The volunteer, trained and led by the noble men of West Point, whom we love as our own, was the mighty engine that met and overmatched the shock and storm of unmatched war. The volunteer was a remarkable compound of citizen, sovereign and subaltern. He loved peace, was unskilled in arms, and abhorred war. He compassed the realm of versatility and was the embodiment of a patriotism and self-abnegation that said to the world, "A day, an hour of virtuous liberty is worth a whole eternity of bondage." Devoted to his home, fitted to adorn any station, he did not abandon family, competence and comfort and dare the storm of battle, the fever of campand heil of prison for the pittance of $13 a month; and the cruel he that dubbed him a Hessian and hireling should have blighted the hateful life and blistered the leprous lips that gave it birth and voice.

He brought to the tented field a freeman's will and all the forces and culture of a freeman's home all the attainments, industries, science and art of a high civilization; and to crown all he brought to the cause a sublime belief that "Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just, and he but naked, that hath his quarrel just, and he science with treason is corrupted." He came from every vocation and profession, up from the hope and home and heart of all the people. He was the aggregate everybody from everywhere, who knew everything and could do anything. He was the culture, courage and patriotism of the Republic under arms, its nervous fluid, wit and genius in the camp, and himself everywhere. When his mind wandered back in ancestral time there was present every land and clime besides those of the Genesta and the Puritan-Y'acht all to see that!

Ah, he was a muitifarious fellow-a regular Yankee kaleidoscope, whether born in America, on the Rhine, the Dundee, or on the Shannon. He was grave and gay by turns, and so absolutely contented with his soldier life that he gave it poetic expression in rhyme and symphony that would eclipse a laureate and stun a prima donna-thus;

I'm a happy volunteer-I wish I wasn't here-I want to be at home with the army in the rear-Swing low, sweet chariot,

John Morgan's got my mule, At the ouset he believed he was a sovereign, knew he was a General, admitted no superior, and only yielded obedience to others because it was law typified by commission, and he knew that it was only himself commanding himself by proxy, and that while he was everybody's man he was nobody's man, and every man was his-such is the genius of our institutions.

In a spirit of resigned symposium he would sometimes drink something from the same-something. He could condescend to accept from his General, and appreciate with solemn relish, the liquifaction of an "eye opener" or the license of "mine eyes be shut for one half hour." With profound humor or infinite adaptation to occasion, he could obey a Corporal, lead a foriorn hope, invade a smoke-house, or command an army; deliver moral llies to a mule, or chide a Chap fort, or a sweet-potato patch; master Constitution, international law, evolution, chuck-a-luck, and flap-jacks; translate Virgil, or Halleck, or by verbal analysis determine the preadamic archeology of an army cracker. He was very human, and it is not claimed that he was always supremely fitted to be a Sunday school superintendent, though in his life, better qualities were the rule and meaner traits

On the more serious and enduring phase we can but touch. Never was transformation from citizen to soldier-rather combination of both-more rapid. He was instinct with duty and, under a master hand, rapidly took on the discipline and self-reliance of a veteran. His cause was an appeal from the flat of moral wrong and cruel might for a final decree of eternal right. He possessed the intuition, inspiration, education, courage and self-sacrifice that come of liberty regu-

He was of a land whose homes, pulpits and hustings taught a creed which set the love of liberty above the love of life, and he conceived that liberty te be not merely the engrossment of an abstract idea, but a supreme, living, throbbing principle. Whether his enlistment was impulse and act in one, or fruit of settled purpose, it was growth of the same germ—the love of something higher than the love of self, and a profound devotion to nationality. He watched the progress of the strife, penetrated the disguises of campaigns, criticised the tactics and strategy of his commander, and with the intelligence of a freeman and ejector watched and aided in directing civil affairs, that liberty might be set above price, intrigue and assault. When off duty it was not uncommon to see him with text-book in hand storing his mind and fitting himself for the professions and multifold duties and stations of civil life when the cruel war should be over. One supreme excellence of his cause was to secure ader liberty and better law not alone to himself, but to the prodigal who strock the fratricidal blow. His faith in ultimate triumph was fixed as the stars, and if he ever seemed to falter it was but a mental discipline to his zeal, as clouds temper the glare of the sun. He did not battle to enthrone a King, but for the divine right of obedience to none but his better self. He was willing to die, be forgotten and wholly lost in a cause, that the cause might not be lost. His triumph came and brought to the political and moral world a revelation as grand as came to the physical world when "God said, let there be light and there was light." When the war ended the world was better for the fray, and he melted into the civil list, rounded into a better manhood, and became in every neighborhood the nucleus of a better and higher civilization. Multiply this rude sketch by millions and you have a dim reflection of the volunteer soldiers of our country.

If the clouds hung heavily at Bull Run and lifted phases of the war, they melted into a shower of mercy at Appomattox that should ever be held a revelation and benediction. At the close of the strife the lives of 360,000 of our comrades had gone out. If living to-day and standing before us in single rank they would present a front of 160 miles.

The best soldier in embryo is the obedient boy of the true mother, the devoted son, the true citizen. He is the hope of civil liberty and of man, and we cherish his noble qualities and his fame not as hero worshipers, but because he is an example of the endencies, the developments and the supreme excellencies of free Government.

The Oklahoma Lands.

To THE EDITOR: I should like to say a few words through your valuable paper for the benefit of old soldiers and the poor citizens of the United States. The so-called Oklahoma and adjoining portion of the Indian Territory lands are talked of coming in for settlement, and I would say to our good officers who make the laws that this Territory ought to come in under different laws from those which other Territories have. The Oklahoma land and Indian Territory is the finest of land, and when it is known that it has come in for settlement. it will be settled in a very short time.

Now, if the Government wants to give the poor citizens of the United States a show, the laws will have to be made different from what they ever have been; otherwise, the moneyed men will get there, and the poor who need the lands, will be left out. From what I can see here the moneyed men, stock and land holders. are ready to go in at a moment's warning and take up these lands, and the poor man will have to stand back unless laws are made in this way: 1. So-called Oklahoma lands and adjoining Indian lands shall be settled by citizens of the United States. 2. That citizens owning property, real or personal, stockholders, landowners, or money holders of any kind to the amount of $2,000, are not entitled to these lands, and if any of the above-mentioned are known to take up these lands they are to forfeit them back to the Government. If the lands come in under a law of this kind it will give a portion of the poor citizens of the United States a home. -James Scoffeld, Co. E, 30th Ohio, Arkansas City, Kan.

Send in Your Names.

TO THE EDITOR: At the Topeka (Kan.) Reunion, Oct. 1, the Ohio comrades on Kansas and Missouri soil contributed $25, more or less, to have the names, regiments and present addresses of all Ohio boys printed in a catalog form and mailed to each one whose name appears on the Topeka roster for '85 in correct manner, and to all others who will forward their names and addresses to F. W. Butterfield, 1206 Magee St., Kansas City (Col. of 8th Ohio). Send a dime or quarter if you can, comrades, but by all means send your name, that our list be the longer, and do it at once, as the catalog will be issued after Nov. 1, 1885 .- C. R. Grant died, indicates the exact time when that event occurred-8:08 a.m. The cottage, with all its interesting contents, has been offered by Mr. Drexel to the United States Government, and will, doubtless, be accepted, when Congress meets in December,

All Perfumes are injurious to the Skin; The Frank Siddalls Soap is not perfumed, but has an agreeable odor from its ingredients that is always pleasant, even to an invalid; it never leaves any odor on the skin; the face never has any of the unpleasant gloss that other soaps produce; it should always be used for washing the hands and face of those troubled with chapped skin; a child will not dread having its face washed when this Soap is used as it does not cause the eyes to smart with the dreaded intense sting that even Imported Castile soap often causes; it always leaves the Skin soft and smooth; wash your baby with it. No tooth-powder or tooth-wash will compare with it.

A little on the tooth-brush makes the mouth, teeth and gums perfectly clean.

It leaves a pleasant, aromatic taste, a sweet breath, and a clean tooth-brush.

It is especially adapted for toilet use with the hard water of the West and in Lake-water Persons who despise a musty Sponge or Wash-rag will appreciate The Frank Siddalls Soap. Whenever either a Sponge or Wash-rag has a disagreeable smell it is due entirely to the so-called fine toilet soap that is such a favorite with you. It is the place of Soap to keep a Sponge or Wash-rag sweet and clean, and The Frank Siddalls Soap will do it without any occasion to expose it to the air or sun.

—Try It for washing your Eye-Classes and Spectacles— When used for washing the head it is better than Shampooing; plenty of the rich white lather should be left in the hair (not washed out); it entirely does away with the use of Hair Tonic, Bay Rum, Bandoline, Pomade, or any hair dressing. Used this way it removes dandruff, the hair will not collect dust, and there will not be any itching of the scalp: Coat Collars, Hat Linings and Neck-wear will keep clean much longer.

The Frank Siddalls Soap is superior to Benzine or Ammonia for cleaning Coat Collars, and for removing Grease Spots, etc., and is guaranteed not to injure the garment. FOR LADIES TO READ

FOR MEN TO READ

ONLY THINK! ONE SOAP FOR ALL USES! The Merchant and his Clerk, the Photographer, the Optician, the Artist, the Jeweser, the Printer, the Bather at the Turkish Bath, the Barber, the Hotel, the Stable, the Army and the Navy, will all reap great benefit from the The Frank Siddalls Soap.

-FOR SHAVING-Its heavy, lasting lather is so different from that of any Shaving Soap that its superiority is almost incredible; the face never burns or smarts, no matter how dull the razor, how tender the skin, or how closely shaved, and the Sponge and Soap Cup will always be sweet-smelling. -IMPORTANT FOR SHIPBOARD AND ARMY USE-It washes freely in hard water, and be sure to remember, where water is scarce, that
The Frank Siddalis Way of Washing only takes a few buckets of water for a large wash.

-FOR HORSES, HARNESS, CARRIACES, etc.-It is vastly superior to Castile Soap for washing a horse's mane and tail, while for washing Sores, Galls, Scratches, etc., it is indispensable. No Stable is complete washing Soles, Galls, Scratches, etc., to to the spendide. The Stable is complete without it. For Harness it is better than Harness Soap, thoroughly cleansing the leather and rendering it soft and pliable, while for washing Cars and Car Windows, cleaning the running-gear and bodies of fine carriages, it is without a rival; by its use Paint and Varnish will last much longer, and the Windows and Lamps will be as clear as crystal The Frank Siddalls Soap is elegant for washing Printing Ink from the hands, and from Printers' Rollers, Type and Electrotypes, being much better than Benzine, and safer, as shocking accidents by fire often occur from Benzine; and Parents whose children use Amateur Printing Presses should remember this. Type and Rollers washed with The Frank Siddalls Soap are in splendid condition for immediate use, and will take the ink readily.

SPECIAL FOR PHYSICIANS To the Physician, the Druggist, the Nurse and the Patient its importance is becoming more and more widely known and appreciated, and it is rapidly superseding Imported Castile and similar soaps for use in the Sick-room, the Nursery and the Hospital. A CERTAIN CURE-IN CASE OF INGROWING TOE-NAILS-A CERTAIN CURE In place of cotton-wool a little of The Frank Siddalls Soap should be kept pressed between the nail and tender flesh—one trial will prove its superiority over cotton-wool.

-AS AN ANTISEPTIC AND DISINFECTANT-For washing Old Running Sores, Bed Sores, Cuts, Wounds and Burns; for washing Chafed Places on Infants and Adults; for use by persons suffering with Tetter, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, Itching Piles, Eruptions on the Face, and for children afflicted with Scaly Incrustations, it is without any of the injurious effects so often experienced when other soap is used; while for washing the Invalid it is a most valuable aid to the Physician, by the thoroughness with which it removes the exhalations from the skin that would otherwise tend to counteract the action of his medicines by closing up the pores, and which cannot be accomplished by any other soap.

Letters from well-known Physicians, describing their experience in their practice with The Frank Siddalls Soap, leave no doubt of the truth of these assertions. Use it for washing Sores on the Feet, caused by walking or wearing tight shoes.

Always leave plenty of the lather on-dont rinse the lather off.

For washing Graduate Measures and Mortars it is better than anything else

Dont ask your wife to try The Frank Siddalls Soap if you are not willing to try it for Shaving and Toilet
